Please see #2726-7 (and note 8)

At initial startup the focus in on the chcb widget in the 1st frame. Then when the user clicks on the 2nd frame, the focus shifts to the "this is a button" button. In P2J, the chcb widget is still drawn with a focus highlight.

The investigation results. The frames inside test properly receive the gaining/loosing focus. This is the painting issue. When adding repaint() on loosing focus the issue is fixing. Looking for solution to have smart repaint for only widgets that need to be repainted.

- File `combo_box_unfocused_issue_fix_20151130.jpg` added

The fix is based on the fact when combo-box is losing the focus the widget look is different. It is possible to fix the issue by two ways:

1. Handle the frame loosing focus event. Detect the currently focused widget and repaint it. If it is the combo - it will be properly repainted.
2. Because the combo-box already implements FocusListener interface we can implement single method `onFocusLost()` in combo-box GUI implementation to properly repaint the widget when required.

I prefer to use 2-nd approach. The respective diff file is attached. Please review and let me know if I can commit the change into 2677b.
