Please note that these screen captures were done with the version that has a known layout issue (see #2853).

Swing:

Web Client:

The deviation is the thin white line between the images in the web version that doesn't appear in the Swing version.

This can be recreated in task branch 1811t revision 11110. It is expected that this will pass testing tonight or tomorrow and will be merged to trunk as trunk revision 10996.
