#1 - 08/08/2019 10:11 AM - Eric Faulhaber

- Subject changed from BUFFER-COPY compares table fields by name rather than data type and order to BUFFER-COPY/BUFFER-COMPARE compares table fields by name rather than data type and order

Based on our findings of how tables are compared for parameter passing purposes and shared temp-table definitions (by field type and order rather than field name), we need to check whether the name-based comparison of tables currently implemented for BUFFER-{COPY|COMPARE} needs to be overhauled. I suspect so...

This seems related to your current work. It may make sense to implement any changes needed to resolve this task along with your other changes in 3821c.

#3 - 03/10/2021 11:01 AM - Greg Shah

Is this still an open issue?

- % Done changed from 0 to 100

- Status changed from New to WIP

This can be closed; the premises in #4173 are not accurate as there is a difference in implementation between bufer-copy field mapping and copy-temp-table field mapping (#4055-79).
