The following test case shows this issue. Clicking on the Upload button and OK in the security dialog doesn't do anything in Linux/Chrome 101.0.4951.64. In Linux/Firefox this works OK.

```
define button Upload.
define frame f Upload with side-labels.
enable all with frame f.

def var fName as char.

on choose of Upload do:
  SYSTEM-DIALOG GET-FILE fName AT-WEB-BROWSER UPLOAD.
  if fName <> ? and length(fName) > 0 then message "File uploaded successfully as" fName.
  else message "Upload failed!".

wait-for close of this-procedure.

Should I work on this issue?

The last my test was done with this program

```
DEFINE VARIABLE sourcefile AS CHARACTER NO-UNDO.
DEFINE VARIABLE targetfile AS CHARACTER NO-UNDO FORMAT "x(20)" VIEW-AS FILL-IN.
DEFINE VARIABLE OKpressed AS LOGICAL
NO-UNDO INITIAL TRUE.
Main:
REPEAT:
SYSTEM-DIALOG GET-FILE sourcefile MULTIPLE AT-WEB-BROWSER UPLOAD DIR "/home/.../projects/testcases/uast/demo"

TITLE "Choose Image to Copy"
FILTERS "images" "*.png, *.jpeg, *.bmp"
MUST-EXIST
USE-FILENAME
UPDATE OKpressed.
IF OKpressed = FALSE THEN LEAVE Main.
UPDATE targetfile WITH FRAME copyframe.
OS-COPY VALUE(sourcefile) VALUE(targetfile).
END.

But the older version 84.0.4147.105 (Official Build) (64-bit) on my 16.04 Ubuntu works properly with your program too.

I have installed Version 102.0.5005.61 (Official Build) (64-bit) of Google Chrome and checked that this test program works properly.

It seems that we can close this issue. Hynek, could you recheck your program with this new version Version 102.0.5005.61 (Official Build) (64-bit)?

This is not FWD issue, something is broken in my environment. Even a simple DOM-only HTML sample with file input doesn't work in my Chrome. This issue can be closed.

Sergey, thanks for checking this.
